AN ACT

To award a Congressional Gold Medal to the 23d Headquarters Special Troops and the 3133d Signal Service Company, popularly known as the “Ghost Army”, in recognition of their unique and highly distinguished service in conducting deception operations in Europe during World War II.

1        Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4        This Act may be cited as the “Ghost Army Congres-

5 sional Gold Medal Act”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7        Congress finds that—

8            (1) the 23d Headquarters Special Troops (com-

9            prised of the 23d Headquarters and Headquarters

10            Company, Special Troops, the 603d Engineer Cam-

11            ouflage Battalion, the 406th Combat Engineer Com-

12            pany, the 3132d Signal Service Company, and the 13            Signal Company, Special, 23d Headquarters, Special

14            Troops) and the 3133d Signal Service Company

15            were units of the United States Army that served in

16            Europe during World War II;

17            (2) the 23d Headquarters Special Troops was

18            actively engaged in battlefield operations from June

19            of 1944 through March of 1945;

20            (3) the 3133d Signal Service Company was en-

21            gaged in operations in Italy in 1945;

22            (4) the deceptive activities of these units were

23            integral to several Allied victories across Europe and 24            reduced casualties;

1           (5) in evaluating the performance of these units
2 after World War II, an Army analysis found that 3 “Rarely, if ever, has there been a group of such a 4 few men which had so great an influence on the out-
5 come of a major military campaign.”;

6           (6) many Ghost Army soldiers were citizen-sol-
7 diers recruited from art schools, advertising agen-
8 cies, communications companies, and other creative 9 and technical professions;

10          (7) the first 4 members of the 23d Head-11 quarters Special Troops landed on D-Day and 2 be-12 came casualties while creating false beach landing
13 sites;

14          (8) a detachment of Army radio operators 15 under the command of Lieutenant Fred Fox joined 16 the invasion fleet for a planned deception, Operation
17 Troutfly, which was cancelled;

18          (9) Lieutenant Fox’s men and their radios were 19 instead attached to the 82d Airborne, which had lost 20 95 percent of its radio equipment, providing critical
21 communications as the 82d Airborne fought its way
22 inland;

23          (10) the secret deception operations of the 23d
24 Headquarters Special Troops commenced in France
25 on June 14, 1944, when Task Force Mason, a 16-

1 man detachment of the 23d led by First Lieutenant
2 Bernard Mason, arrived in Normandy;

3 (11) Lieutenant Mason and his men set up 4 dummy artillery to draw enemy fire and protect the 5 980th Field Artillery Battalion (VIII Corps) as part 6 of the Normandy Campaign;

7 (12) the rest of the soldiers of the 23d Head-
8 quarters Special Troops arrived in France in July
9 and August of 1944;

10 (13) full-scale deception efforts began with Op-11 eration Elephant from July 1 to 4, 1944, in which 12 the 23d Headquarters Special Troops covered the 13 movement of the 2d Armored Division when it left 14 a reserve position to go into the line between the 15 First United States and Second British Armies;

16 (14) Operation Elephant was the first of the 21
17 full-scale tactical deceptions completed by the 23d
18 Headquarters Special Troops;

19 (15) often operating on or near the front lines,
20 the 23d Headquarters Special Troops used inflatable
21 tanks, artillery, airplanes and other vehicles, ad-
22 vanced engineered soundtracks, and skillfully crafted
23 radio trickery to create the illusion of sizable Amer-24 ican forces where there were none and to draw the 25 enemy away from Allied troops;

1           (16) the 3132d and the 3133d Signal Service
2           Companies, activated in Pine Camp (now Fort 3           Drum), New York, at the Army Experimental Sta-4           tion in March and June of 1944, respectively, were 5           the only “sonic deception” ground combat units of 6           the United States in World War II;

7           (17) soldiers of the 23d Headquarters Special
8           Troops impersonated other, larger Army units by 9           sewing counterfeit patches onto their uniforms,
10          painting false markings on their vehicles, and cre-
11          ating phony headquarters staffed by fake generals,
12          all in an effort to feed false information to Axis
13          spies;

14          (18) during the Battle of the Bulge, the 23d
15          Headquarters Special Troops created counterfeit 16          radio traffic in an effort to deceive the enemy of the 17          movement of elements of General George S. Patton’s 18          Third Army as it shifted to break through to the 19          101st Airborne Division and elements of 10th Ar-
20          mored Division in the besieged Belgian town of Bas-
21          togne;

22          (19) in its final mission, Operation Viersen, in 23          March 1945, the 23d Headquarters Special Troops 24          conducted a tactical deception operation intended to 25          draw German units down the Rhine River and away

1 from the Ninth Army, allowing the Ninth Army to 2 cross the Rhine into Germany;

3 (20) during Operation Viersen, the 23d Head-
4 quarters Special Troops, with the assistance of other
5 units, impersonated 2 complete divisions of Amer-
6 ican forces by using fabricated radio networks,
7 soundtracks of construction work and artillery fire,
8 and hundreds of inflatable and real vehicles;

9 (21) according to a military intelligence officer
10 of the 79th Infantry, “There is no doubt that Oper-11 ation Viersen materially assisted in deceiving the 12 enemy with regard to the real dispositions and inten-
13 tions of this Army.”;

14 (22) 3 soldiers of the 23d Headquarters Special
15 Troops gave their lives and dozens were injured in 16 carrying out their mission;

17 (23) in April 1945, the 3133d Signal Service
18 Company conducted Operation Craftsman in support
19 of Operation Second Wind, the successful Allied ef-
20 fort to break through the German defensive position
21 to the north of Florence, Italy, known as the Gothic
22 Line;

23 (24) along with an attached platoon of British 24 engineers, who were inflatable decoy specialists, the 25 3133d Signal Service Company used sonic deception

1 to misrepresent troop locations along this defensive
2 line;

3 (25) the activities of the 23d Headquarters
4 Special Troops and the 3133d Signal Service Com-
5 pany remained highly classified for more than 40
6 years after the war and received minimal recogni-
7 tion;

8 (26) the extraordinary accomplishments of this 9 unit are deserving of belated official recognition; and

10 (27) the United States is eternally grateful to 11 the soldiers of the 23d Headquarters Special Troops 12 and the 3133d Signal Service Company for their 13 proficient use of innovative tactics during World
14 War II, which saved lives and made significant con-
15 tributions to the defeat of the Axis powers.
